

April 4, 2005
Donald B. Crawford, President

THE STAND
EASTER

It is not over.

It has only just begun!

Resurrection Sunday, that miraculous third day, marks the beginning of a massive miracle with incredible power for 364 days. So, some things lest we forget.

He grew up as a tender plant.

He was a root out of dry ground.

He was not comely nor was there any beauty in Him, nothing for us to desire.

He was despised and rejected, a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief. We hid our faces from Him and wanted nothing to do with Him.

His life was burdened with our griefs and sorrows.

He was stricken, smitten and afflicted of God.

He was wounded for our transgressions, bruised for our sins. He took on the iniquity of us all.

He was oppressed but never complained.

He was brought as a lamb to the slaughter but never complained.

He was ripped out of the land of the living for the transgressions of others.

He made His grave with the wicked and with the rich in His death.

He was innocent, never having done any violence nor was there any deceit in His mouth.

His soul was an offering for sin.

He poured out His soul unto death, numbered with the transgressors. He made eternal intercession for those transgressors.

The Stand-Easter

April 4, 2005

Page-2

Just a reminder what He did, lest we forget. He never forgot us then, or now, or ever.

Thank you Isaiah for this incredible prophecy turned reality.

What a man. What a Savior. Lest we forget!

DBC/dw