

October 11, 2004
Donald B. Crawford, President

THE STAND
ELECTION 2004

We have carefully examined the issues and the presidential candidates. We state unequivocally that the Crawford Broadcasting Company fully endorses the re-election of President George W. Bush. Although we do not speak for all of our employees, we do for a considerable majority and, we are convinced, the majority of our listeners. We do so for the following reasons.

We endorse the Republican and Bush position and policy on public affairs and international relationships. Our country under Bush is viewed as proactive, aggressive, fully championing what it believes to be right. As a nation, we do not cotton to any other nation or group of nations, including the United Nations. We stand ready under Bush to cooperate with any nation but we will be beholden to none nor will we take orders from any. We are ready to utilize military force where necessary and right, invest our assets whether money, time or even our citizens to accomplish our objectives. We believe in the Bush Doctrine of healthy even aggressive independence for America, but full cooperation with our allies and friends.

We believe that the war in Iraq was necessary and justified although, as all wars, unfortunate. Where prudent and where necessary, we believe our armed forces should be deployed to confront and neutralize hostile nations. The Iraqi war and our subsequent victory resulted in the demise of Saddam Hussein and a brutal terroristic regime, perhaps the worst in the world. The American investment in that war was well worth the end result.

We believe that Israel must remain a strong nation in the Middle East, supported financially and psychologically by the United States and protected against nations and terrorists who would seek its demise. That is the right thing to do for geo-political and spiritual reasons. We believe George W. Bush is committed to that purpose even as Mr. Bush is committed to making certain that we do whatever is necessary to achieve the right end result in Iraq.

We believe that Mr. Bush is the right Commander In Chief of American Armed Forces. We believe in times of crisis and where aggressive action is required, Mr. Bush will make bold and proper military decisions. Those decisions we believe have been and will be right for America in the next four years.

The Stand- Election 2004

October 11, 2004

Page-2

We think Mr. Bush understands the threat of terrorism better than Mr. Kerry, and that he as President will do more to identify, combat and defeat terrorism and terrorists. Terrorism is an incredibly serious problem, here to stay and America must be ever vigilant, more so than ever. We think George W. Bush will maintain that vigilance which we believe is so critical and necessary to the safety and security of America. For these reasons and more, our company and I as its President enthusiastically endorse the re-election of George W. Bush as President of the United States. We urge you to vote for Mr. Bush. He is the right man to lead America for the next four years.

DBC/dw